Branding methods

DigiFlex printing

Using our Digiflex printing technology you are able to have stunning single or full colour images and logo designs on co-ordinating or contrasting cover colours. By utilising High Definition UV digital print technologies, Digiflex printing produces photographic quality with rich colour tone and depth. It also has the added benefit of being flexible so your images will not have hairline fractures or picture splitting.

Works with our bookbound Brandhide & Leathertex

We have a selection of Notebooks, Journals and Diaries using these materials.

Diaries	page 2
Journals	page 4
Notebooks	pages 6-9

Blocking

Metallic foil

Blind embossing

Colour foil

Screen printing

Personalise your notebook covers either with your logo or a chosen design. One of the popular methods for this is blocking. This technique is available either as blind embossing (no colour) or foil blocking with one of the many available colours. Please contact us for more details.

Pens, pencils & loops

Add some practicality to your product with a Pen Loop. Also why not include a promotional pen or pencil? These can complement your overall branding and bring an added quality feel to the product.

Printed wraps

Promotional wraps deliver the end user a unique product experience when unwrapping the product. We can apply your branding, a personal message or a campaign 'call to action' onto the wrap. Printed in full colour, they give your notebook a luxurious look.

Document pockets

Enhance your notebook experience even further by adding a handy document pocket. This is a convenient tool for storing away tickets, receipts or other loose notes. Document pockets are available for all our myNo notebooks and journals.

Advertising pages

The majority of our customers include advertising pages to enhance their notebooks. These can be used, for example, to raise your brand awareness, for providing key contact details, mission statements or calls to action.
