Bespoke Calendars

By using your own images, fonts and branding, we can help you to create a calendar unique to you. Show off your products or services each month or choose an original theme that best reflects your company, the choice is yours.

How to supply your own images

Ideally you will have your own collection of 12 images that we can use. As long as these are of a good enough resolution, we can use or adapt them for use on your calendar.

If you do not have images or would like a particular theme, we advise that you use an online service like Shutterstock. As long as you are not reselling your calendars, a cheaper standard image licence will be fine. If you are going to sell your calendars, you will need to purchase the images with a more expensive enhanced image licence.

We cannot purchase the images for you as we would always require an enhanced licence as technically we would be selling them on to you.

A set of 12 images with a standard licence on Shutterstock costs around £90. The same images with an enhanced licence are around £700.
